Corporate governance framework

Our commitment to the Queensland Government's focus on integrity and accountability is underpinned by our existing corporate governance framework. This framework is based on Queensland Treasury's Corporate Governance Guidelines for Government Owned Corporations and Queensland Auditor-General's model. It includes far-reaching accountability processes, which place a high priority on due diligence, compliance and ensuring transparency in decision-making.

Committees and groups

- The Consultative Committee (CC) provides a forum to discuss and consult on staffing matters including industrial relations with Together Union representatives and ensures issues are managed appropriately. The committee meets quarterly and as issues arise.
- The Portfolio Investment Board (PIB) reviews new and innovative business initiatives identified through operational planning, staff feedback, government commitments or unforeseen events, and assesses their merit for inclusion in the corporate portfolio. It ensures projects operate in an efficient, effective manner and are sufficiently resourced to support our business and corporate needs. The PIB is chaired by the Chief Financial Officer and includes the RTA executive leadership team.
- Project Boards are established for each project in the portfolio. They are responsible for driving overall direction and progress by monitoring and controlling projects within agreed tolerances as approved by the PIB. Project Board duties also include monitoring project risk, budget expenditure, deliverables, timeframes, communications and supporting vendor and stakeholder engagement. The PIB and the Project Board members attend a joint monthly meeting to discuss both portfolio and project board items.
- The Legislation Consensus Group (LCG) contemplates new and proposed legislation and monitors emerging trends affecting existing legislation. The LCG ensures the RTA provides accurate, consistent and timely information to its stakeholders and customers.
- The Health and Safety Committee (HSC) assists management in the prevention of accidents and incidents through the development and implementation of measures to ensure employee and visitor health and safety at the RTA.
- The Information Security Committee (ISC) meets monthly to review and revise policies relating to information security, information classification and information management. The ISC works closely with its managed services provider to mitigate risks and complete the action plan under the IS18 checklist.

External scrutiny

In 2020–21, the RTA engaged a number of experts to review and provide feedback on our processes, policies, systems and strategies.

The RTA engaged Pitcher Partners through the Queensland Audit Office to provide annual financial audit services. No significant findings have been reported through the reviews.

Protiviti was engaged to undertake the RTA's internal audit program.

Internal audit

Internal accountability through internal audits assists the ARC in fulfilling its obligations by providing independent assurance of the effectiveness of systems, procedures and controls to ensure compliance and management of risks. The RTA's strategic audit plan sets out the audits for identified areas to assist with our strategic goals which include:

- reliability and integrity of financial and other operating information
- adequacy and effectiveness of systems and controls
- workforce engagement and performance
- compliance with policies, laws and regulations
- prevention of fraud and corruption.

During 2020–21, Protiviti undertook the following internal audits, including:

- COVID-19 response
- IT service management
- bond management
- information management (privacy and Right to Information).

Ethical standards

The RTA Code of Conduct provides a framework for ethical conduct of staff based on the principles and values of the Public Sector Ethics Act 1994 and is reflected in our Human Resources policies, procedures, initiatives and management standards. Under the Code, staff are to carry out duties with integrity, impartiality, accountability, transparency, and promote the public good. Mandatory Code of Conduct training is completed by all staff through an online learning system, with refresher training every 12 months.

Human rights disclosure

The RTA is committed to respecting, protecting and promoting human rights in our decision-making and actions as reflected in the RTA Strategic Plan 2019–23. Processes have been established to integrate the consideration of human rights and ensure compliance with the Human Rights Act 2019. In 2020–21, the RTA engaged the Queensland Human Rights Commission to conduct RTA wide staff training in assessing compatibility with human rights.

The RTA has received one human rights complaint and acknowledged the potential limitation. Immediate steps were taken to manually rectify the affected process with further investigation being conducted into a digital solution to support this process.

Positive customer feedback

The RTA values the opinions of our customers and actively encourages and seeks feedback about our services. Customers have the option to provide feedback through various services and channels of communication and this is an important aspect of building a customer-focused workforce and ensuring customers value our services.

In 2020–21, the RTA responded to 98 formal customer complaints. Of these customer complaints, 94 were resolved at the initial contact with four requiring further action. An average customer satisfaction score of 82.6 per cent was recorded for the delivery of customer services.

Public interest disclosure

All RTA employees have an ethical responsibility to report actual, or suspected, instances of official misconduct as defined in the Public Interest Disclosure Act 2010. There were no disclosures in 2020–21.

Open data disclosure

An overseas travel expenditure report for the 2020-2021 reporting year was not required due to overseas travel not being undertaken by any staff member of the organisation.

Performance review framework

The performance review framework ensures the monitoring and reviewing of the RTA's performance, conducted by the RTA Board and CEO, is undertaken with comprehensive knowledge of our functions.

The table below outlines our 2020–21 performance against the key elements of the framework.

Business and financial planning

The organisation's strategic direction is documented and formalised through the RTA Strategic Plan 2019–23 (visit rta.qld.gov.au to access a copy), outlining priorities relating to customers valuing RTA services, providing smart digital services, building a customer-focused workforce and improving business efficiency.

Our budget, which is endorsed by the Board and approved by the Minister, is developed through our business planning processes.

A review of the Strategic Plan is conducted every four years and a minor update was made this year to align with the Queensland Government's objective of Unite and Recover.

Digital innovation and information systems

The main focus of our digital optimisation and innovation in 2020–21 was to upgrade our technological infrastructure and capabilities. In doing so, we have provided easy-to-access services to support the residential rental sector, ensured continuity of service and positioned ourselves for the future.

With our frontline services in the Customer Experience division heavily reliant on telephone and voice infrastructures, the RTA successfully upgraded to the modernised Genesys telephone system in December 2020. This upgrade also sent live our new interactive voice response (IVR) system named RiTA. At the same time, we implemented a sophisticated and secure web-conferencing platform, WebEx, to further enhance the dispute resolution experience for customers and conciliators.

Following the upgrade of the telephone and voice infrastructures, the RTA rolled out a suite of Office 365 applications to all staff. This initiative was prioritised to support flexible working arrangements, improving the functionality and capability of Microsoft Teams for inbound and outbound calls and videoconferencing.

The RTA released the Change of Bond Contributors Web Service in August 2020 and the Tenancy Dispute Resolution Web Service in January 2021 to offer more ways of transacting digitally with the RTA and make essential tenancy and bond transactions quicker and more convenient for our customers. By enabling customers to change bond contributors or bond allocation amounts quickly and easily online, in addition to processing agreed changes to the bond and approved changes in tenants within hours, customers can save time and go on to access other Web Services. The Tenancy Dispute Resolution Web Service also automates much of the dispute resolution request process, enabling RTA staff to focus on providing valuable and tailored support to our customers.

In 2020–21, the RTA also completed several initiatives to improve the employee experience in preparation for the RTA office relocation. The Network Uplift project replaced the existing information and communications technology (ICT) network that was at end of life with a new infrastructure and enhanced wireless coverage across the RTA office. This boosted connectivity for all phones, computers, printers and other electronic systems such as audio-visual equipment and established a good foundation for the ICT network and infrastructure in the new RTA office. The RTA Server Migration project was another crucial component in the lead-up to the office relocation, which moved most of our servers to CITEC, which is the Queensland Government's primary ICT services provider. This allowed us to migrate away from on-premise servers, operate in a more secure environment and decommission our server at Eight Mile Plains in Brisbane.

Enhancing information systems and security

In 2020–21, the RTA has continued to improve its maturity level in cyber security in line with Essential8 protocols and IS18:2018 checklist as described by Australian Signals Directorate (ASD) and Queensland Government Chief Information Office (QGClO) respectively.

The Information Security Committee continues to meet monthly to review and revise policies relating to information security, information classification and information management. The committee also works closely with its managed services provider to mitigate risks and complete the action plan under the IS18 checklist. Improvements have included migrating to Office 365 including upgrading to Exchange Online, replacing the RTA's on-premise voice solution with cloud-based voice solutions and completing the replacement and relocation of the RTA network. The migration of RTA servers to CITEC QCloud provided a more robust and secure back-up data facility and enabled us to switch server locations without interrupting RTA services.

Recordkeeping

The Records Management Unit oversees RTA's records management practices governed by the Public Records Act 2002. The associated policies and procedures are regularly reviewed to ensure staff are informed of current recordkeeping practices and responsibilities in accordance with Queensland State Archive's Records governance policy.

We consider recordkeeping requirements in all aspects of service delivery and when planning and implementing business requirements. Records management governance practices, aligned with broader agency frameworks, are considered and incorporated in business strategies, objectives and activities. Position descriptions, policies and procedures incorporate recordkeeping responsibilities.

In 2020–21:

- All RTA staff undertook records management training to increase awareness and promote our recordkeeping culture.
- Records disposals were carried out regularly using retention and disposal schedules approved by the Queensland State Archivist.
- Identification, appraisal, archiving and removal of onsite physical records were completed in conjunction with the RTA office relocation project.

The RTA is continuing the implementation of education and audit programs to ensure ongoing improvement for organisational recordkeeping.

Access to information

Members of the public can access certain information controlled by the Queensland Government through the Right to Information Act 2009 (RTI Act). The RTA also operates in an open, transparent and accountable manner while protecting the privacy of customers and staff to support right to information principles.

The RTA will release information under the Administrative Access Policy where possible, which allows access to certain types of information without going through the formal processes outlined by the RTI Act or the Information Privacy Act 2009. In 2020–21, the RTA responded to 516 requests made under the Administrative Access Policy.

Our corporate governance framework places a high priority on due diligence, compliance and ensuring transparency in decision-making.
